ROYAL ARCANUM HOLD NINTH ANNUAL LADIES' NIGHT

Large and Dressy Party and a Delightful Time--Grand Officers Present.

The ninth annual Ladies' Night of the Alpha Council, Royal Arcanum, was held at Freeman's hall on Wednesday evening, and as usual it was one of the big social events of the year. There was a large party and it included a good number of the members of the Major Waldron Council from Dover and the Exeter Council, who were guests of the local council.

The hall had been prettily decorated, the stage being banked with palms and flowers. Lurvey's Cadet orchestra of Lynn furnished the music and they rendered an excellent concert program from eight o'clock until dancing was begun.

Although it was Valentine night, no attempt was made to have it a valentine party, but it was recalled by the dance orders which were red hearts and very attractive. There were eighteen dances and it was one o'clock before the crowd regretfully said good night. This makes the ninth affair of this kind conducted by the Council and all have been great successes and none more so than last evening. It was a dressy party with many handsome gowns in evidence.

The Council now have upwards of four hundred members and have by far the largest council in the state, and rank well with any council in New England.

There were present last evening, Grand Regent Elmer of Dover, Grand Treasurer Green of Exeter, Grand Chaplain and Grand Medical Examiner Dr. F. S. Towle of this city.

At intermission refreshments of ices and cake and coffee were served.

The officers of the dance were: Floor director, Frank E. Leavitt; aids, H. W. Gray, Jr., S. M. Hansen, H. S. Murch, Jr., F. P. Overy, F. B. Trueman and C. A. Towle. Committee of arrangements, Messrs. H. B. Yeaton, F. E. Leavitt and S. D. Gilkey.

The list of dancers were:

1. Two-Step.
2. Waltz.

PASTOR'S WIFE ENTERTAINS AID SOCIETY

Mrs. Moulton Entertains Society Connected with Pearl St. Church.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Pearl street, Free Baptist church met Wednesday afternoon and evening with the pastor's wife, Mrs. E. P. Moulton. Between fifty and sixty sat down to the supper provided and enjoyed the social that followed. They were entertained with violin solos by Mr. Joseph Frisbee, vocal solos by Master Edward Nicks, singing of hymns and with games. A spirit of fellowship and good cheer was present and the general expression was a good time.

ed with Medical Referee Keay, and it was decided to hold an autopsy. Mrs. Keay and Tolman spent three hours on the case.

About 3 o'clock in the afternoon, Solicitor Hughes sent Deputy Sheriff Goodwin to Salmon Falls to get the husband, who was working in the cotton mill. He was brought to the courthouse and detained in the sheriff's room until Solicitor Hughes, who was occupied with the grand jury, could talk with him. Kanelopoulos was allowed to go.

MIDDLE STREET CHURCH SOCIETY ENTERTAINMENT

Customs of Hindu Were Presented for Edification of the Members.

The Woman's Foreign Missionary society of the Middle Street Baptist church presented in the church chapel on State street on Wednesday evening, an entertainment based on the work of the Baptist missions among the Hindu people. Customs distinctive of the people and taboos illustrative of their customs were presented for the edification of the members. During the entertainment solos were sung by Harry G. Caswell, Edna Wright and Mabel Jackson. Mathilda Rothwell read the autobiography of a Hindu woman, and Eleanor Reich sang the song of a Hindu widow. Harry Caswell, Mrs. Fred B. Whitcomb, Mrs. Martha S. Towle, Lillian Kootsch, Evelyn Badger, Eleanor Reich and Doris Yeaton participated in the Hindu scenes.

A violin trio of world Hindu music was played by the three youthful members of the school. Mrs. A. C. Willey, president of the society, and Mrs. Amos O. Benfield arranged the entertainment. Mrs. Amos R. Locke was in charge of the supper. After the work of the order, an open session was held with exercises commemorative to both Lincoln and Washington. The Corps had as guests Commander Edwin Underhill, Junior Vice Commander Henry S. Paul, Chaplain M. H. Bell and Patriotic Instructor Josiah N. Jones, all of whom spoke in glowing terms of both the patriots. Remarks were also made by Mrs. Underhill, a visitor from Candia, and a paper was read by Mrs. Nellie M. Fletcher on the toast given by President Lincoln at his presidential nomination, entitled "Mr. Lincoln and Adams' Ale," also the eulogy given at his bier at Springfield, Ill., by Bishop Simpson. All united in singing the "Star Spangled Banner," and closing with the flag salute. The session was very interesting and greatly enjoyed by those present.

NEW TURN DEVELOPES IN RAILROAD RATE HEARING

Only Way Freight Charges Can be Equalized is by Repeal of the Statutes.

Concord, N. H., Feb. 15.—The most important development of the hearing yesterday before the Public Commission upon the railroad rate question was the practical agreement of the expert witnesses on both sides that a reasonable and just readjustment of rates to meet present day conditions is impossible unless the restrictive statutes are repealed. The admission came first from Robert Rantoul, rate expert in the employ of the state after a long discussion between John W. Kelley, representing the railroad, and Allen Kells of counsel for the state, upon the question of its admissibility.

When adjournment was taken last week it was expected that the first witness to be called this week would be George H. Eaton, general freight agent of the Boston and Maine railroad, but when the hearing was opened yesterday morning, Mr. Kelley, unexpectedly called for the privilege of examining the state's expert. Condition for the state having acceded to this request Mr. Kelley began an examination of the witness as to the general results of his investigation into the New Hampshire rate situation while acting for the special committee on rates last winter and since for the Public Service Commission. Among other things which developed was the fact that class rates over the Boston and Maine lines in the eastern part of the state are about one-third lower than those over the Concord and Montreal in the central portion. Mr. Rantoul stated further that taking into consideration the

CONFIRMATION BY BISHOP PARKER

Class at St. John's Church Receive Apostolic Rite.

Rev. Edward M. Parker, bishop on coadjutor of the Episcopal diocese of New Hampshire, comes to this city Thursday, April 4, to administer the apostolic rite of confirmation upon a class of candidates at St. John's church. Bishop Parker will remain in this city to preach a sermon on Good Friday. The Rev. Harold M. Polson, rector of St. John's, will on Sunday begin a series of instruction preparatory to the visit of Bishop Parker to administer confirmation.

In police court on Wednesday Bessie Cook, 45 years old, of 51 Water street, pleaded guilty and paid a fine of $30 and costs of $5.00 on the charge of keeping a disorderly house. The summoning of other people into court marks the resumption by the police commission of a plan to exact money from certain people in order to pay the city for privileges granted to them.

COUNTY OFFICIALS PROBING DEATH OF A WOMAN AT DOVER

Dover, Feb. 15.—Whether Eva (William) Kanelopoulos, the 19-year-old wife of Christos Kanelopoulos of 18 Young street, met her death by other than natural causes, is the question engaging the attention of the Strafford county authorities at present. Last night, after an examination of the body by Dr. Forrest L. Keay of Rochester, the medical referee, and Deputy George A. Tolman, the doctors declined to make any statement. County Solicitor Hughes stated that no report had been made to him. The investigation is regarded as still in progress.

The young wife died yesterday morning at the home of her parents. It was given out that the death resulted from a fall sustained by her about ten days ago at the mills of the Salmon Falls Manufacturing Co. Mrs. Kanelopoulos slipped on an oily spot on the floor and fell, causing a rupture. The physician who attended her became suspicious, and yesterday informed County Solicitor River back of the old Fitchburg railroad. George T. Hughes, who communicated

WORK OF REMOVING BROWN TAIL MOTHS NEARLY COMPLETED

Comparatively Few Nests Were Found this Year.

The work of removing brown-tail moth nests from city property will be completed this week according to Contractor Howard M. Brooks. The contractor is today cleaning the moths from trees in a small district near the South Burying ground. His force of men will begin operations tomorrow on the outskirts of the city, near the Greenland line, and at night will have completed their work upon the last of the city's property. Since Brooks began the work four weeks ago he has employed a large force of experienced moth chasers. Gerald A. Cullen has supervised the work in the interest of the city.

Comparatively few nests were found this year. An agent of the state department recently told city officials that if all cities were as free from the moth as Portsmouth the destructive animal would soon be extinct. The disappearance of the moth is attributed to the thorough cleaning of last year and the subsequent cutting and spraying by the city department. Fewer gyp moth nests were found in the wake of the workmen sent by the United States government. The campaign to cause the removal of nests on private property will be begun about April 1.

MAYOR BADGER WIRES THANKS TO BOSTON HERALD

Says Portsmouth Harbor is Ideal Place for Great Naval Station.

Mayor Daniel W. Badger in behalf of the citizens of Portsmouth expressed their appreciation of the fair minded editorial concerning Portsmouth harbor which appeared in the Boston Herald of Wednesday by the following telegram to that paper:

To the Editor of The Herald:

Your editorial in today's Herald setting forth the merits of Portsmouth harbor as a winter port for commerce and a naval station is greatly appreciated by the people of Portsmouth and vicinity. This matter is of vital importance to our people and I believe should be of great interest to the nation. Without doubt Portsmouth harbor is the ideal place for a great naval station and has also unequalled advantages for commerce. Credit is due The Herald for calling attention to the advantages possessed by a sister city of Boston. In behalf of the citizens of this city I thank you.

DANIEL W. BADGER, Mayor.

KITTERY POINT

What Is Happening in the Harbor Town

The Parish Social of the Congregational church was held at the home of Mrs. George Gannison on Tuesday evening.

Robert Billings is confined to his home by illness.

Charles Tobey is reported more comfortable today.

The steamer Charles F. Mayer, a frequent visitor to this port, is in trouble near Nantucket. The Mayer recently left Baltimore with a load of coal for Portsmouth, having in tow two loaded barges, one consigned to Portsmouth and one to Boston. The heavy ice has forced both these barges ashore and a wrecking company has sent assistance. The steamer was ordered to proceed to Portsmouth yesterday, but at the writing, nothing has been seen of her.

Four degrees below zero Tuesday morning. If this is a sample of the "warmer conditions" so confidently predicted by the weather bureau, may angels and ministers of grace defend us from anything it may designate as a cold wave.

Miss Effie Manson of Ogunquit is visiting her grandmother, Mrs. Anne Manson.

Mrs. Eliza E. Bray is confined to her home by illness.

H. H. Luce of Exeter was in town Tuesday on business.

The next meeting of the Sleepy Hollow club will occur at the home of Mrs. Elmer Riley.

Mrs. Martha Bromfield of Rye is visiting relatives in town.

John Hodgdon of Georgetown, Conn., former principal of the Mitchell school, is the guest of Frank Fuller.

F. H. McCray of Sanford, general manager of the A. S. R. R., was in town on Tuesday, accompanied by parties from Portland, who it is said contemplate purchasing the ferryboat Kittery for service on the route between Portland and South Portland.

Over four hundred feet of new iron water pipe has been required to make good the damage done by Saturday's freeze-up on the Badger's Island bridge.

Sailed, schooner Home, Weymouth, Mass., for Belfast, Maine.

A drill rehearsal will be held at the home of Mrs. Frank Blake on Thursday evening.

Later reports from the Portsmouth bound coal steamer Charles F. Mayer, are to the effect that she was obliged by the ice to anchor at Wood's Hole on Monday.

A Washington social will be held at the Free Baptist church on the evening of Feb. 22.

GREENLAND

Charles H. Brackett is storing a quantity of the second crop of ice from the mill pond. He uses it the year round in the milk cooling process and needs a great amount.

Among those who represent the local grange at the Pomona meeting at Hampton on Wednesday, were:

Mr. and Mrs. William R. Weeks, Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Brackett, Mr. Brackett gave an address on corn.

Mrs. Sarah R. Weeks has arrived home after two weeks stay in Boston and vicinity.

Miss Lucy Hoyt contracted a severe cold by an evening trip to Portsmouth last week and is quite ill from neuralgia and sore throat.

William Brackett of the state college Durham, has been elected president of his class.

It is reported that Mr. Joseph Doolittle will break up his home here and reside with his son Arthur H. Doolittle of Portsmouth.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence M. Hantress gave a Valentine party at which heart decorations in the rooms figured conspicuously on Tuesday evening. A large number were present and enjoyed the occasion very much. Refreshments dainty and delicious were served.

Mrs. Mabel Markley will return to Boston this week, having passed two weeks with friends in town.

The no-name sewing club was entertained on Tuesday afternoon by Mrs. Irving Rolison. Among those present were Mrs. John W. Weeks, Mrs. Harold Bennett, Mrs. Markley, Mrs. George W. Lord, Miss Ruth Lord, Miss Laura Ordway and Miss Nellie Bennett.

Rev. Mrs. L. L. Harris has gone to western Massachusetts to pass two weeks with her daughter, Mrs. Paul Nye.

NEW TURN DEVELOPS IN RAILROAD HEARING

lesser amount of traffic in the eastern section and the excess of operating expense there as compared with the central section the rates should be reversed and the higher charged in the eastern section if there was to be any variation at all.

It was at this time that Mr. Kelley put a long hypothetical question as to the possibility of a readjustment under the present law. Mr. Hollis objected to the question but the commission finally allowed Mr. Rantoul to answer. The gist of his reply was that it would be impossible to legally raise the rates in the eastern section in order to compensate the railroad for any loss it would incur by a decrease of rates in the central portion. He further stated that in his opinion regulation by a commission was preferable as a general thing to a right legislative enactment.

Mr. Eaton who was called later in the afternoon corroborated the testimony of Mr. Rantoul as to the variation in rates between the two sections, saying that these differences in freight charges were in force when the roads were consolidated and that the statutes of 1893 and 1899 prohibited any practical equalizing of the charges on the two parts of the system. This practical agreement of the two experts is regarded as an important development as the railroad's position is that the statute should be repealed in order to enable the railroad to make a readjustment of the rates in the state if desirable under the direction of the Public Service Commission.

Jim Rector May Compete In Sprints at Olympic Games

St. Louis, Feb. 15.—James Rector, the former crack sprinter of the University of Virginia and now an attorney in this city, will be a member of the American Olympic team that will go to Sweden next June. He is now in light training, and, according to reports, will compete in several outdoor meets in May. Rector is a known quantity. His great performance in the 100-yard dash at London in 1905 is a matter of his record with which most fans are familiar. His defeat in a hair raising finish with Walker will be remembered.

CASCARETS INSURE INSIDE CLEANLINESS

The Millions of Cascaret Users Never Have Headache, Constipation, Bilelessness or Sisk Stomach

It is more necessary that you keep your Bowels, Liver and Stomach clean, pure and fresh than it is to keep the sewers and drainage of a large city free from obstruction. Are you keeping clean inside with Cascarets—or merely forcing a passage every few days with salts, cathartic pills or castor oil? This is important.

Cascarets immediately cleanse and regulate the stomach, remove the sour, indigestible and fermenting food and foul gases; take the excess bile from the liver and carry out of the system the decomposed waste matter and poison in the intestines and bowels.

No odds how badly and upset you feel, a Cascaret tonight will straighten you out by morning. They work while you sleep. A 10-cent box from your druggist will keep your entire family feeling good for months.

Don't forget the children—their little insides need a good, gentle cleansing, too.

Commission.

Mr. Rantoul testified that there is no discrimination against New Hampshire in the matter of rates, either class or commodity, compared with Massachusetts. He also stated that with those in force on the Boston and Maine system in Maine, Vermont and so far as he has been able to discover, no commodity rates have been increased in this state since the passage of the respective statutes in 1893 except upon six articles—lumber, granite, brick, ice, manure and sand. The increase in the rates upon these articles were made in 1903 and were the cause of the litigation begun several years ago which resulted in the decision of the court that the present rates in this state are in some cases illegal.

"THE COUNTRY BOY" AT PARK THEATRE, BOSTON

An interesting commentary upon the American people general among first impressions of foreigners visiting our shores is that everyone here wants to be something else than what he is. Emeritus Elliot of the Harvard University ascribes the symptoms to the extreme liberty that Americans enjoy, coupled with the wide spread tendency to immigration. Liberty of speech and action added to the natural desire to better one's condition, he contends, induces a desire to change location. Thus, the constantly shifting and with the change of scene comes new wants and desires and none is content to follow the same vocation or mode of life throughout. An apt illustration of this theory are the cases of two talented women now playing in "The Country Boy." Edgar Selwyn's delightful comedy at the Park Theatre Boston.

Miss Helen Hilton who plays the part of Jane Belknap, the country girl is a marked success on the stage as thousands who have witnessed her truthful interpretation can testify. Yet not so long ago she was a newspaper woman, daily filling the woman's page of the Buffalo Courier with bright, interesting and useful hints for the gentler sex, and in taste education and training Miss Hilton was admirably fitted for the field of Journalism. But she wanted something different. She wanted to go on the stage. She believed there was a greater future for her behind the foot lights and she left the newspaper where she had served so faithfully and became an actress. Alone this fact is not of particular significance, but it becomes peculiarly interesting in comparison with the ambitions of another member of the same company, Miss Ethel Clayton, who has the role of Amy Leroy, the show girl in "The Country Boy." Miss Clayton has always been a newspaper woman, and now Miss Clayton has been seized with an ardent belief that the brilliant stage career which certainly awaits her behind the footlights is nothing compared to what she feels sure she is able to accomplish in the new field of Journalism. Already she is employing her spare time writing musical and dramatic topics for various Western papers, from which part of the country she comes and she is looking forward to the day when she will leave the stage to follow what she believes to be her natural bent. She is a close family friend of one of Chicago's leading paper men and it is not improbable that she may begin her active newspaper career in that city.

Thus is the distinguishing characteristic of the American people strongly brought out in this coincidence of the two members, of "The Country Boy" company, one woman giving up newspaper work for the stage and the other sacrificing a promising stage career for the press.

NATURALIST ON THE SLUMS

Dr. Hornaday Gives Some Sound Advice to Young Women Tourists From the West.

A short time ago a party of young women tourists from the west visited the New York zoological park and called on Dr. Hornaday, to whom they had a letter of introduction. The director personally conducted their inspection of the park, answered their rattling fire of questions and placed at their disposal so far as possible his vast fund of information on topics in his line. As they were about to leave he surprised them by giving them some advice in a different direction and of a nature that visitors to New York do not usually receive.

"Now, girls," he said, "of course you wish to see everything in New York, but do not visit the slums. It will not add one thing to your education. I have lived in New York eleven years, and if there are any slums here I do not know where they are nor do I wish to know unless I could do some good there. The casual visitor cannot. Only a morbid and unwholesome curiosity would prompt anyone to seek such places for the purpose of looking at degradation, and you can use your time to better advantage. There are so many important and attractive things to be seen in New York that you cannot afford to waste your time on unworthy sights. Try to see the pleasant and valuable things and leave New York clean in your own slums—hoping that may be soon."

It has been reported since that several mothers and fathers are grateful to the director for his unexpected advice.

CHEMICAL CALLED BY DUMP FIRE

Several Buildings Endangered, But Blaze is Extinguished.

The Chemical engine was called to the dump off Water street near the Liberty bridge shortly before six o'clock last evening, to check a fire which had been started in the waste paper on the dump, and which threatened several of the buildings and the historic old Liberty pole.

The fire had been started during the afternoon and had been left at five o'clock by the workmen. Soon after it spread over a considerable territory and was eating its way up under the bridge and the wharf of Charles H. Stewart when a call was sent in for the Chemical. A hydrant stream soon had the flames under control.

NOTHING ON THIS CLOCK

A Greenland, N. H., man, commenting on the fact that the town clock in Warner, N. H., was stopped by the cold some time ago, insists that the town timepiece of Greenland, cold as the name may sound, can be stopped by nothing. A few months ago, he says, lightning struck the steeple of the church on which this clock is located and in descending groundward actually removed the gilding from the hands of the clock yet without in any measure diminishing its ability to record correct time—Boston Post.

FEDERAL OFFICERS MAKE ARRESTS IN DYNAMITE CASES

Nearly Fifty Labor Leaders Under Indictment in Connection With McNamara Case.

Indianapolis, Feb. 14.—By what was said to be the most sweeping Federal action of its kind ever taken, the United States Government within a few hours today arrested a majority of the 54 men indicted for alleged complicity in a dynamite conspiracy spread across the country for six years.

At the head of those arrested was Frank M. Ryan, president of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers. Several other officers, including Herbert S. Hockin, second vice president and successor to J. J. McNamara, the convicted dynamiter, as secretary-treasurer of the union, were arrested with Ryan in Indianapolis.

Reports from all over the country showed also that five of the seven Iron Workers' executive board members and a half dozen former members were taken in custody.

These officials and their codefendants are charged with violating the Federal statutes regulating interstate shipment of explosives, which resulted from the activities of the McNamara and McManigal "dynamiting crew," who carried dynamite and nitroglycerine in and about the country in passenger trains.

"Mr. Ryan Under Severe Nervous Strain."

All the defendants are charged with conspiring to further the series of 100 explosions which were directed by labor union officials against iron and steel contractors and employees of non-union labor.

Before noon 36 arrests had been made.

The most important move by the defendants on their arrest was to secure bond for their appearance here March 12.

Ryan and Hockin each gave $10,000 bond and were released.

On advice of counsel, Ryan and Hockin and Butler declined to make a statement until they had opportunity to confer.

"Mr. Ryan is 57 years old, is under a severe nervous strain and is in no condition to talk of his arrest," said Newton M. Harding, attorney for the Iron Workers. "This is the crisis of his life. When he becomes calmer I may permit him to issue a formal statement."

Michael J. Young Among Indicted.

Those indicted in the dynamite cases are:

Frank M. Ryan, president International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers; lives in Chicago; headquarters in Indianapolis.

John T. Butler, Buffalo, N. Y., first vice president.

Herbert S. Hockin, Detroit, Mich., second vice president and acting secretary-treasurer.

Michael J. Young, Boston, Mass., member Executive Board and president Boston Local Union 7 (not in custody up to 3 p. m.).

Richard H. Houlahan, Chicago, financial secretary Iron Workers Local 1.

ELKS' SOCIAL DRAWS A BIG CROWD

Harry P. Morse Gave Excellent Exhibition of Fancy Pool Shots.

Another one of the Elks' socials was held at the Home on Wednesday evening, and there was a good crowd present. Harry P. Morse, the well known pool player, gave an exhibition of fancy and trick shots, and he showed a number of new ones.

For this event the pool table was moved to the upper assembly hall so that his audience had a splendid chance to see him work. As Mr. Morse is undoubtedly one of the best fancy shot artists in the country, the exhibition made a great hit.

A lunch and music followed the exhibition.

ARRANGING ENTERTAINMENT.

A committee is now busily engaged in arranging a public entertainment to be presented in Association hall on February 26, through which a working fund is expected to be established. The suffragettes will present two one-act playlets, "How She Won the Vote," and "Lady Geraldine Speaks." Appropriates of their unprecedented activities the members of the Portsmouth Equal Suffrage League announced with positiveness that they are conservative.

For PORTSMOUTH and PORTSMOUTH'S INTERESTS

THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 15, 1912

Woodrow Wilson, the scholar in politics, is certainly teaching the politicians of the old school some very salutary lessons.

Just a difference of opinion. While the political enemies of President Wilson are proclaiming that his political house of cards is rapidly falling to pieces, his private secretary, Hilse, is more confident than ever of his nomination and election.

Meanwhile the people are keeping close tabs on the situation, and are doing their own thinking, regardless of the whole bunch of politicians.

The Manchester Mirror says: The United States cannot afford to ignore its need of a strong navy. With out any bluster or parade, it should recognize that it has now stepped into the position of one of the world's great powers, and if it is to remain there in peace or in war, it must play the part assigned to it in the destiny of nations.

Let us take off our hats to the Boston Herald for its handsome acknowledgment of the fact that Portsmouth Harbor is at the present time the one shining example on the northern coast of an absolutely ice free harbor. Considering the usual suppression and misrepresentation of facts commonly indulged in concerning the advantages of this harbor, the Herald's editorial on Wednesday is most refreshing.

The large railroads of the country would do well to emulate the example of the great Pennsylvania railroad in safe guarding the employees from accident. As the result of a comprehensive scheme of organization based upon an investigation of its shops by accident insurance experts, the number of injuries per hundred was reduced from 3.7 in January, 1911, to 3.02 in October of the same year. The model presented to the Pennsylvania Railroad by the American Museum of Safety, for doing more for its employees than any other company last year, has been well earned.

The Manchester Union says: Boston, boasting of her "ice-free" harbor, cautiously admits that, "in the coldest weather, there may be a few coatings of ice in some parts" of it; but Portsmouth boldly asserts that no piece of ice so large as a nickel has been formed in her harbor this winter. H-m-m. Well, there's both one harbor, but, of course, Portsmouth is the better.

MID'S EYE VIEWS.

Many a self-made man ought to give a lot of the credit to his wife.

Mr. Bryan has positive opinions which would seem to render him ineligible to sit on the jury in case the money trust were tried for its life.

Samuel Gompers has had so much court experience that he can come pretty near holding his own in a wordy battle of legal quibs and quibbles.

Conditions in Mexico render it natural for the superficial observer to inquire what the reason was for the killing of Diaz.

A new magazine, devoted exclusively to poetry, announces that it has five hundred contributors and is the largest contributor to the poetry of the world.

There was a time when neither Florida nor Alaska was regarded as having resources worth quarrelling about.

If American Beauty roses grew wild, would the girls care anything about them?

Zero weather used to stop neighborhood gossip over the backyard fence, but now it goes gaily on by telephone while other subscribers, filled with indignation, are waiting for the line.

Girls who wear sixteen-inch hats, with the sharp points endangering everybody who comes near them, incur very little risk of running the hatpin through their brains.

A bumper crop of ice is already assured.

The cold weather has had no effect upon the joke crop.

There is nothing new under the sun unless it's China.

The favorite political dishes this year are plums and pie.

How do you interpret the sphinx of Oyster Bay? To run or not to run?

Colonel Watterson's correspondence from politicians is said to be rapidly decreasing.

The New York American makes this interrogation: "T. R. R. U. or A. R. U. not?"

If you want to be efficient, do what comes to you day by day a little better than is necessary.

It would be a unique campaign with Roosevelt and Bryan as candidates. Stranger things have happened.

AMONG OUR EXCHANGES

No Religious Dogma in Politics

His Eminence Cardinal O'Connell does very well to remind his people that what is wanted is not a Catholic party in politics. It is much better for politics if religious bitterness can be kept out of it. The relations of any man with his God and the faith that he happens to entertain touching things unseen are highly important, of course—but they are not political issues, and whenever they have been permitted to become such the result has been destructive on every side. Of course history is full of instances wherein the bigotry of successive religions has produced upheavals in statecraft, and even particularly cruel wars which have been quite at variance with the benevolent doctrines taught by the later prophets. But it has been proven to make further insistence on the religious test as a matter of political virtue intolerable and an anachronism. May not men worship God after their own consciences in diverse ways without at all affecting their capacity to deal with public questions? Surely they must. And the spectacle of Christians, worshipping one deity and following a common ethic, holding aloof from one another because of man-made differences of creed is revolting to any person of proper moral sense. It is bad enough when these differences are confined to purely isolated questions of church going. They only tend to make impossible the federation of the followers of the gentle Christ. But when the same differences are allowed to masquerade as elements in mundane politics, the

FIFTY YEARS AGO TODAY

Gleanings From Files of Portsmouth Chronicle

Allen Treat, Jr., 16 years of age, was so seriously injured by being run over by an engine near the Eastern railroad station in this city on Friday morning, that he died in a few hours. He had got upon the engine while wooding up, and in jumping off as it moved slowly by the house in which his father resides, he struck against a ridge of ice and fell directly under the wheels which passed diagonally across his legs and body crushing him in a terrible manner.

A bill to raise troops to meet the requisition on Virginia passed both branches of the (rebel) General Assembly of that State, on Monday, in secret session. It provides for the filling up of companies now in the field to 100 men, and if the requisite number do not volunteer, then to draft from the enrolled militia.

Orders have been issued from the War Department for the whole force now at Augusta, Me., to enter the service as soon as possible.

It is reported that "a high English official" recently arrived in New York from London, and that he put up at a quiet hotel in Brooklyn and for several weeks daily visited the Navy Yard, afterwards inspecting Fort Hamilton, Fort Columbus, Fort Richmond, and other important military posts, and then returning by steamer to Europe. He is believed to have been a British spy.

from the cultivation of eucalyptus trees. These trees are found in great variety in Australia and yield resinous secretions usually called gum. Some of them attain a size of sixteen feet in diameter while many of them attain a height of from 150 to 250 feet. We cannot grow these rare trees in our climate, but we can raise potatoes and vegetables of various kinds. We can also run a poultry farm, a pigery and a farm for live stock. All these things could be done at a profit if the right men were placed at the head; but that is the difficulty, and it is one which we are not very sanguine about seeing overcome. This is one method by which cities and towns could furnish employment for men at reasonable wages—if it were legal, but under present conditions and statutory limitations it is not. But there is no bar to any citizen getting a piece of land in the suburbs and cultivating it so as to raise potatoes and other vegetables. There is an opportunity to make money by raising poultry, hogs and cattle. At present prices the farmer even with small capital should be able to make large profits if he brings skill and industry to bear upon his work.

We have a city farm connected with the pauper department, but we do not hear much from the products being more valuable than formerly. The farming business at that institution was discouraged about the time prices began to soar. There is an opportunity for a skilled farmer to make a record there in raising enough potatoes and other produce to supply the inmates during the year. It seems this matter might well be looked into by the municipal board.

There is no bar to conducting a farm on a large scale in connection with the pauper department, but the idea of making the city farm a source of profit has practically been abandoned in spite of the fact that prices of farm produce are higher than ever before. —Lowell Sun.

The Menace to Our Fisheries

The broadsides against the steam trawlers are now rattling all along the line, Gloucester, Boston, Portland and Lunenburg, the four principal fishing ports of the northern coast, are united against this common foe—the otter trawl. The issue will presently be before Congress, and in the Nova Scotian port, on Saturday night, the skippers of the Lunenburg fleet came together to petition their Federal Government to prohibit the landing of fish caught in this destructive gear, and to refuse coal and provisions to steamers engaged in that sort of fishing. The bill in our own Congress would forbid the entrance of fish taken in the otter trawl, and fixes as the penalty the forfeiture of the vessel's registry.

The case against the otter trawl has been pretty thoroughly set forth in these columns. It has sufficient appeared that this method of fishing—dragging a heavy scoop net over the sea-bottom—is wasteful and destructive; wasteful of the unmarketable young fish, which must be shoveled out of the net overboard, dead and destructive of the shellfish and other sea life, which attracts fish to the banks as feeding-ground. There is already plenty of evidence that even so small a fleet of steam trawlers as that now on this coast has begun its ravages, and if ever a people had a warning lesson of the evils of waste in fishing, New England has it in the depletion of the North Sea fisheries, which had, as long ago as the eighties been so seriously impaired as to require the offices of a royal British commission. The beam trawl and other trawls had wrought this damage.

With no more than half a dozen steam trawlers in the New England fishing fleet, the harm they have done is still comparatively slight, but since this method of fishing has proved profitable, the fleet is sure to increase until it usurps the trade of the schooners, which not only take such fish as are mature and bring them to market in better condition, but scatter annually 30,000,000 pounds of bait on the fishing grounds, whereas the steam trawlers contribute no bait and destroy even that which nature has provided. A more direct question of "conservation of natural resources" does not face this country. For it affects not only the hardy and toilsome fishermen of New England, who wrest a living from the sea, often at the daily peril of their lives, but the consumers of this cheap and nutritious sea food all over the country. We are to ask ourselves this: Shall the banks be fished wisely and thriftily, as they have been since the founding of the Massachusetts Bay Colony, leaving them virtually as rich today as they were two hundred years ago, or shall the otter trawl reap its devastating harvests and finish the industry in less than two decades?

If Congress locks the door on this extravagance it can do so with every reasonable assurance that its precaution will be seconded by its northern neighbor for Canada has no steam trawling fleet worth mentioning as yet; public opinion is against the practice from Fundy Bay to Cape North, and a law is already in effect prohibiting the use of the otter trawl within the three-mile limit of Canadian possessions.

The whole northern coast, then, is united against this menace to our oldest industry, and it is certainly worth remarking that the interests behind this fleet of steam trawlers have not yet offered a public defence of their operations. Whether this signifies a knowledge that their excuses would be flimsy, or a determination to do their resisting in the lobby at Washington, we have yet to learn. —Boston Transcript.

Solon Cate of Concord a brakeman on the Boston and Maine was instantly killed on Wednesday by falling off his train from a box car between Rumney and Wentworth.

The text of the demands handed in to the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad company by the heads of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers show that an increase of wages is asked for both passenger and freight engineers, based on capacity of engines, on a sliding scale.

Double pay is demanded for overtime, involving a large increase over the old rates. Engineers in electric service are to be under the same rules and rates of pay as those on steam locomotives. The increase for switching and belt line service is based upon the day. Higher pay is also demanded in cases of delay.

It is understood that in the month of January during the extremely cold weather, that about 90 broken steel rails were found on the Portland division of the Boston and Maine, between Boston and Portland for which it is said that the excessive cold weather and heavy locomotives were responsible. The efficiency of the automatic signal system in operation on this division prevented any accidents as when a rail breaks it disconnects the signal system and the signal arm is set at danger. The signal system without doubt, saved many trains from being derailed.

Fourteen years ago today the ship Maine was destroyed by explosion and sank a tangled wreck in Havana harbor, carrying to the bottom many members of her crew. This action precipitated a war between the United States and Spain and ere it had ended the Spaniards had good cause to remember the Maine, as the pride of their navy under Admiral Cervera was completely destroyed off the harbor of Santiago.

KITTERY LETTER

Breezy Items from Village Across the River

Kittery, Feb. 13.

The Valentine Party last evening at the Second Methodist church was decidedly one of the biggest hits of the season. The party was in the hands of the Ladies Aid Society of the church, and the ladies, certainly, worked long and hard to make the affair a perfect success. The vestry was handsomely decorated in red and white, the decorations being of hearts. There were big hearts and little hearts, hearts of every size imaginable, intermingled with cupid, and the effect was certainly striking. In the center of the vestry was a large heart made of roses, and as the party marched around the room, the two meeting in front of this handsome heart were partners for the refreshments, which were served in boxes, and consisted of sandwiches, cake, etc. There was no program, but selections on the piano were rendered during the evening, and the time passed in games. The ladies in charge were gowned in white, and wore red aprons made in the shape of a heart. A good sum was realized for the treasury of the Aid society.

Pascal M. Brann of Jones avenue has returned from a visit to relatives in Augusta.

There will be a regular meeting this evening of the Kittery Grange in Grange Hall.

Tomorrow evening in Wentworth ball occurs the Leap Year dance by the Seniors of Traip Academy.

A little sand on the sidewalks, just now would be very welcome.

Mrs. Thomas Wilson of Wentworth street is reported as being ill.

The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Foster of Woodlawn avenue are sympathizing with them in the loss of their little child which was born on Wednesday.

An electric light is soon to be installed on Woodlawn avenue at a place where it is very much needed.

Mrs. George Fernald of Portsmouth was a visitor in town on Wednesday.

The Ladies' Social circle of the Second Christian church met this afternoon with Mrs. Sarah Trefethen of Walker street.

Mrs. Myrtle Small of Jones avenue has been called to Augusta by the illness of relatives.

Principal G. H. D. Lamoureux of Traip academy was again taken ill on Wednesday and it was found nec-

BOWLING

Ham and White Will Roll Poehler and Oldfield--Wooden Heads Defeat Bone Heads--Oldfield High in Boston American Roll Off.

Ham and White Accept Challenge.

The recent challenge, issued by Poehler and Oldfield, to roll any two men team, has been taken up by Hiram White and Harold Ham, and they are prepared to roll ten strings for a comfortable size side bet.

The match will be rolled at the Arcade alleys this evening. Both Ham and White are good bowlers, and while neither are in a class with Poehler, they rank Oldfield.

Bone Heads Trim the Wooden Ones.

The teams of the Bulton Shop played off at the Elks' alleys last evening and some good strings were rolled. Whittemore was high for the Wooden Heads with 217, while A. O'Brien headed the Bone Headed team with 230.

The summary:

	Wooden Heads.	Bone Heads.
Kelley,	59 53 70-182	77 75 72-224
Hussey,	67 61 64-192	73 79 78-230
Burke,	73 65 78-216	70 69 74-213
Holland,	62 61 62-185	62 72 83-217
Whittemore,	79 59 79-217	53 45 60-158
	340 220 373 939	335 340 307 1042

Why were they Left Out.

The veteran firemen of this city are not any too pleased that their association is not represented in the bowling schedule of the regular firemen which appeared on Tuesday. The veterans think this league should include all firemen and have reason to believe that their company can produce a team that can win against any of the active men. They don't hesitate to say, that when the alarm sounds they are good enough to get out and work with the regulars and help to save life and property, but they are not good enough to be considered when it comes to a little fun in the way of bowling. They think it will be a wise move to revise the schedule and include the red-shirts.

VALENTINE PARTY

The Misses McEvoy Entertain a Merry Company of Young Friends

The Misses Anna and Margaret McEvoy of Whidden street entertained a number of young people at their home on Wednesday evening, which was a very happy chapter in the lives of the merry company. The affair was in the form of a valentine party. The decorations, appropriate for the occasion, were very artistic and displayed the handiwork of the young ladies of the household. A program of vocal and instrumental music was a pleasing feature of the gathering as well as a dainty lunch served during the evening.

The Boston Post Advises Secretary Meyer to take Trip to this Port.

The Boston Post this morning has the following editorial words to say in commendation of Portsmouth harbor and its navy yard:

"While Narragansett Bay, according to the Providence papers, is under a pretty stiff ice embargo, to the extent that steamers have great trouble in getting to ports on that expanse, the Piscataqua is rolling merrily to the sea at Portsmouth, open and unencumbered, permitting traffic of all kinds to go straight to their docks without the least difficulty. In fact, Portsmouth's is the one north Atlantic harbor never bothered by ice."

"Secretary Meyer still clings to his notion that Narragansett Bay should be our single northern naval station and that the Portsmouth yard should be abandoned. Perhaps a winter trip to both places might open his eyes."

"In connection with the above it should be stated that his fresh water basin at the League Island yard is frozen solid notwithstanding the efforts of ice boats to keep a channel clear. In the event of Secretary Meyer's establishing a single naval base at Narragansett Bay, he would undoubtedly arrange in the possibility of war with any foreign country to have the same take place in warm weather so that the officers, when not engaged in actual warfare could enjoy tennis and golf at the nearby summer resort."

EDISONIAN THEATRE

Freeman's Hall

Our picture show for Thursday is sure to please.

"When Hubby Went to College," a great comedy drama about a poor, loupeloped coddler. In your mind's eye you can see this same old girl 14 years ago, a dashing college boy full of the thousand and one little tricks which help to make the college boy what he is.

"Touring Venice," this picture takes us through sleepy, dreamy Venice, the city of Romance and Poetry--and flower and song. Is a delightful trip, first on a train, then on a gondola, and the fine palaces of ancient Venice and the picturesque peasant homes continually in view.

"Wengna's Broken Promise," a great Indian drama.

"The Justice of Man," another drama.

"The Coward's Flute," a great war picture.

For Thursday, Friday and Saturday, the vaudeville we have to offer is "The Silverettes," a comedy ring act, and "Nan Evans," a character change artist, who is sure to please.

HIGH COST OF BUTTER WON'T DEPRIVE JACKIES

Bids for 600,000 Pounds are Opened at Navy Department

New York, Feb. 15.--Uncle Sam's fighting lads at sea won't lack for butter, even if the price is high.

Bids for 300 tons--600,000 pounds--of the finest butter the dairy herds can produce, were opened at the navy department Wednesday. The proposals specify that 340,000 pounds be delivered in New York and 18,000 pounds in San Francisco.

The lowest bid was more than 10 cents above the average weekly market wholesale price at the time of delivery. The government pays the extra for packing and handling.

WITH ENTERTAINMENT AND SMOKE TALK

Boiler and Ship Builders Celebrate Their Fifth An- niversary in a Royal Manner.

The members of Boiler Maker and Iron Ship Builders Lodge, No. 407, of this city, held their fifth annual entertainment and smoke talk at Socialist hall on Wednesday evening with a goodly number present. The evening's program was opened by President D. Chaisson with an address of welcome. Bro. Trask sang "Just One Girl," and received a well merited encore. Bro. Wilson recited "Hostler Joe," in a pleasing manner; Bro. J. Quinn, past president of Boston Lodge, No. 250, spoke interestingly on the good that the union had accomplished; J. W. Kane sang "Old Black Joe"; Thomas O'Leary rendered several songs including "The Days of Old Boston," and Jack Gamster played several selections on the banjo that caught the crowd. A four round bout between Francis McDermott and Hector McDonald was decided a draw and formed an interesting part of the program. Mr. Tobey spoke in interestingly on the fine site the United States has for a navy yard at this port, also the large water front and the ample facilities afforded at the navy yard for building a battleship. The refreshment table was presided over by E. Collins and George S. Pinkham. The evening was thoroughly enjoyed by all present and marked another successful event in the history of the lodge. The success of the affair was in a great measure due to the following efficient committee: D. Chaisson, chairman, S. Collins, J. Pridham.

WEDDED 50 YEARS.

Mr. and Mrs. John A. Brown of Hampton Falls, N. H., Celebrate Anniversary on Their Farm.

Mr. and Mrs. John A. Brown of Hampton Falls celebrated on Tuesday the fiftieth anniversary of their marriage, surrounded by their four sons and nine grandchildren, and about 75 other relatives and guests.

Mr. Brown was born, and with the exception of two years spent in Kansas, has lived all his life on the farm in this town, formerly owned by his father. Mrs. Brown was, before her marriage, Miss Clara M. Hatch of Kennebunk, a sister of the late Rufus Hatch, formerly president of the Pacific Mail Steamship Company and the Northern Pacific Railroad. Mr. Brown is 79 years old and his wife 73. Both are in good health and actively enjoyed the informal festivities of the day.

Many gifts and floral offerings were received. The four sons are Rufus H. Brown, assistant agent of the B. & M. In Revere, Mass; Albert J. Brown, station agent and town clerk of Revere; Charles H. Brown, station agent at Hampton Falls, and Harry P. Brown, who is carrying on the old farm.

"THE PINK LADY" BIDS GOOD- BYE TO BOSTON IN TWO WEEKS.

The last two weeks of the remarkable run of that dashing, flashing, fascinating, musical gem "The Pink Lady" at the Colonial is announced the final performance will be given Saturday night, March the 2nd, the following week the entire production will leave this country for its European opening.

As there will be no opportunity of ever seeing "The Pink Lady" again with this, the original cast anywhere in New England outside of Boston it behooves all lovers of this class of performance not to miss the treat of a life time.

An extra holiday matinee will be given Washington's birthday, Thursday, February 22, in addition to the regular Wednesday and Saturday matinees.

The alluring fascination of this gem of musical comedy is just as attractive as its long run nears the end as upon its first performances at the Colonial Theatre where the cogeny of its appeal is just as strong in drawing enormous audiences, whose laughter and applause heartily respond to the humorous episodes, clever complications, bright, sparkling music and the many delights contained in this distinctly the best musical play of the season.

Mail orders with the proper remittance will be received for the holiday matinee and all other performances.

FOR THE RELIEF OF NANTUCKET RESIDENTS

Cutter Acushnet Makes Attempt Today.

Woods Hole, Feb. 15—This morning the revenue cutter Acushnet will try to break the ice blockade at Nantucket and deliver the mails, meats and provisions to the imprisoned residents, who have not been in communication with the mainland for nearly a week. The Acushnet arrived here this afternoon from New London, and arrangements for attempting the trip were made for Capt. Wiley at once.

Agent Whitton of the steamship company will go on the cutter to superintend the landing of the mails and supplies. Local Agent Vedeler had the mails and provisions put aboard the cutter Acushnet yesterday, and Capt. Wiley announced last evening that he would leave at 7 a. m., today. He expects to reach Nantucket about noon.

Included in the supplies that will be taken to Nantucket are 7000 pounds of meat, 30 bundles of newspapers, 55 sacks of mail, a large lot of yeast cakes and a number of films for the moving picture show.

Pilot Robinson of the Acushnet, who has had years of experience on the shoals will direct the tug in her battle with the ice pack. It is likely that it will be a hard task for the Acushnet to break her way through the ice, which Capt. Eaton of the Lighthouse tender Anchorage says is thicker than he has ever known it along the coast.

The crews of both the Handkerchief and Cross Rip Lightships could safely walk either to Nantucket or to their homes on Cape Cod, a dozen miles distant, if they wished as the ice is more than six inches thick, and stretches in a solid barrier across the shoals.

Capt. Wiley intends to run to a point off Quincy, which is a dozen miles from Nantucket village and Capt. Norcross and his crew of life-savers of the Coskata Station assisted by fishermen will undertake to land the mails, supplies and the few passengers from the Acushnet. Among the passengers is a member of the Coskata crew, whose liberty expires today.

The raging tides have piled the drift ice in huge barriers, some of them more than 20 feet high on the local places off Nantucket, presenting a strange and novel spectacle. When Capt. Eaton returned here last night he reported all the lightships still holding to their stations. A great many important buoys in the path of shipping have been carried under or swept away by the ice, and none of them can be replaced until the ice breaks up.

The wrecking steamer Ancerton, which left here last night to go to the two abandoned barges on the shoals, had not returned. It is believed that she has succeeded in breaking her way through the ice and is salvaging the wrecked barges.

Reports from Nantucket last night are that large fields of ice are forming on the east coast of Nantucket, which may prevent the Acushnet from landing supplies even if she succeeds in reaching this far away island.

A GREAT BILL

The vaudeville at Music hall for the last three days of the week is an extremely strong bill. The Jacksons, three in number present "Cupid's Travels," special scenery being used in connection with the act, which is one of the best yet presented at this popular place of amusement. La Petite Doritine in divertissement dances scored a big hit at her initial performance. Miss Ethel Wood in illustrated songs and the latest in motion pictures.

CITY NEWS

Can anybody explain why some hot head did not start something by ringing in Box 9 at the corner of Water and Court streets last night when fire broke out on the dump. If the record is correct it's the first time a spark of fire was ever seen in that locality that this box did not summon the department. Even the word fire is good enough for a blow from that box.

Fire drills are coming so frequent of late at the navy yard that the men when answering a call cannot tell whether it's the real thing or not. Today for the second time this month the alarm was sounded and a lively drill held near the steam engineering pattern shop. Capt. Leonard believes that much drilling is necessary, especially among the hook and ladder brigade, who have been working overtime compared with past years.

Edward T. Alexander, alias Edward T. Grant, who was sentenced by Chief Justice Wallace in the superior court at Exeter on Tuesday to four years in state prison, was taken to that institution today by Sheriff Spinyee.

Mrs. Edith Wendell, wife of Prof. Barrett Wendell of Harvard, has sent out invites to residents of this city to meet her at the Hotel Rockingham on the afternoon of February 21 at three o'clock when some speeches will be made to further extension of Suffrage to Women.

I WONDER

What the committee are doing on that new bridge across the river?

When we will see that all-year round train service on the York Harbor and Beach railroad?

If a photograph of Narragansett Bay and one of Portsmouth harbor at the present time would open the eyes of Secretary Meyer of the navy?

Why so little interest is taken in the constitutional convention when the best men of both parties should be elected to this important gathering?

How the betting is on the active firemen's bowling league?

That Col. Sio thinks they can surprise the rest of the department when the roll off begins?

If that fire on the Water street dump didn't keep the combination crew busy for a while last night?

How box 19 escaped in the excitement without sounding an alarm?

If this dump is not keeping the people of that district busy of late?

Why that dangerous condition in the town at the corner of Vaughan and Deer streets is allowed to remain?

If next summer will not see the busiest season at the navy yard in twenty-five years.

Who added the fourth bird to that flock of eagles near Rollins' farm?

If the veteran firemen will start a bowling tournament among themselves?

If the Boston Herald and Post know the truth about Portsmouth harbor?

If these papers are not telling the people of the country why the navy yard should be let alone by the navy lobby?

If that member of the fire department who lives on Christian Shore thinks that nobody sleeps in the neighborhood since he began practicing for the bowling league?

How long it is going to conduct that bowling alley in his attic and if he will continue to roll iron balls at glass bottles?

Who gathers up the fragments every morning?

If that last letter from Jesse to his canned goods girl at Plainville, Ind., was not some class?

If she came across with a pretty valentine on Wednesday?

If the country was not full of excitement fourteen years ago today when the Maine was blown up at Havana?

If Portsmouth or Portsmouth navy yard will get any of the relics of the wreck that came North on the Collier Leonidas?

Why that special train was not started for Concord today to convey the admirers of Woodrow Wilson?

Why Newburyport is dropping out many of its firemen in the department?

Some road trades in second-hand dances scored a big hit at her initial typewriters at W. F. Woods' 344

The One Best Way To Make Your Money Earn More Money For You Is To Buy Real Estate 6 Per Cent Gold Bonds

BECAUSE They are absolutely safe and certain to be paid at maturity. They are issued in denominations of $100, $500 and $1000. They mature in ten years and the principal is then payable in cash. They represent actual ownership of New York Real Estate. They are a lien on all present and future assets of the Corporation. They can always be turned into cash through their loan provision. They can be exchanged at their face value any time for Real Estate owned by the Corporation. They are surrendered at the end of five years, in accordance with the terms of the Bond, for their full face value in cash. They are negotiable and transferable at any time. They are issued with the privilege of registration as to principal. They are accepted by The Debenture Corporation of New York at any time as collateral for loans. They share in one-half of the net profits of the Corporation in addition to the 6 per cent. The books of the Corporation are audited regularly by The Audit Company of New York. The 6 per cent interest coupons are payable quarterly through any bank in the United States. They can be purchased at par either for all cash or on monthly payments. They earn 6 per cent from the day that any amount is received by the Corporation, on the amount received. They are especially adapted to systematic savings, and have many other good points. THE DEBENTURE CORPORATION OF NEW YORK is organized under the laws of New York. It offers these bonds to the public because its business affords unusual opportunities through the successful operation of buying and selling real estate. No obligation on your part for requesting literature giving all other information.
